Experience how the “Elite of Newport” celebrated Christmas with a visit to “The Breakers”, home of Cornelius Vanderbilt II, grandson of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt who established the family fortune in steamships and railroads. Designed by celebrated architect Richard Morris Hunt, the 70-room mansion is the largest of Newport’s famed “summer cottages”. An icon of the Gilded Age in America, the house never looks more beautiful than during the holidays with thousands of poinsettias, evergreens and wreaths, and over thirty decorated trees that grace the many public rooms for visitors’ enjoyment. You won’t want to miss the gingerbread model of the house, created by amazing local pastry chefs, and on display in the kitchen.

You’ll be ready for a relaxing dinner that we have arranged at Sardella’s, one of Newport’s finest Italian restaurants.

We have combined TWO wonderful holiday events into one trip this year! On our way home, we’ll visit La Salette Shine in Attleboro for their amazing holiday lights displays and collection of crèches from around the world.
